

The sun always rises in the east. To identify the other points, just point your right arm at the sun. Ahead of you will be north, behind you will be south, and to your left will be west!